Google life story

One day Google was born he is a golden retriever he got a brother tom who is a cat. His job is to help blind people but he failed because of his dandruff.

Google came into school to show off his skills, he was riding around on his blue and black skateboard when he fell off. Luckily, he didn't hurt himself. So he went for a walk and stepped on a thorn. Sandy, his owner, rushed him to the Vets. The Vet put on a pink plaster cast on his left foot. He attempts to try some more tricks but he can't. Google is riding his skateboard when he loses control and it crashes into the wall. The next minute it starts raining chickens. Google is excited as it is his favourite food. The chickens that have fallen out of the sky then all turn into a new skateboard. This time the skateboard is black and green.

Google was very happy with his new skateboard and happily skated around on it for ages.

Google was playing with his favourite toy, Tango one day. All of a sudden at night Google heard the bushes rustling and then he heard a ripping sound. Tango had lost an arm.

Google was very upset. Google managed to find the scent of the lost arm of Tango. He followed it all the way through his town. He managed to discover the person with Tango's arm.

The woman got arrested for theft. This woman did this because Google ran away from her. This was due to the fact that she was cruel to Google.

Google went home. Sandy sewed the arm back onto Tango. Google then played with Tango all day. The end.

Google woke up. He was very tired and hungry.
Yesterday was a long day for Google.

Google was looking forward to going to the park. The park was his favourite place. Google liked meeting other dogs at the park.

Google had a great time at the park as always. Google ran around at high speed, and was faster than most of the other dogs.

Google suddenly awoke. He had dreamt the whole thing. He hadn't been to the park at all!

Google was very happy. He was now going to the park, only this time he wasn't dreaming. He wasn't quite the fastest dog in the park this time, but that didn't matter.

Once upon a time there was a dog called Google, who does lots of tricks, we call him the next dynamo. He went to visit a school and demonstrated his trick of dunking the basketball in the hoop! He was then scouted for his talent, and went off to play basketball in the United States. Google was the highest paid dog in the world earning £100,000 a week.

One fine day Taggie and Google were playing. Taggie wanted to go to the park but Google did not want to go to the park. He wanted to go to the woods; they argued for five minutes. Finally they went to the park. Later they were playing and Google thought to himself is it time to go home yet? "Yes it is!" Sally said telepathically. Finally! Thought Google. "I am sorry that you had to go to the park; tomorrow we can go to the woods."

When they got home they had dinner they had dog food then they went to bed. Next day when they got up In the morning and then they went to the woods later Google cut his poor and they was playing catch for one hour then they went home from the woods they had there dinner then they went to bed

The lost Tango

One morning Google woke up. "Oh no Tango is missing he must have gone in the night"!

"Tommy help me find him."

"No I don't want to, but because it's you I will." They looked in the rooms, they looked down in the basement, they looked in the shopping mall and finally at their friends' houses. Later Google and Tommy sat down with an Ice cream. "I can't find Tango anywhere." Google said shamley

They went back home. Later in the afternoon Tommy and Google were getting worried "never mind we will get another one" said Tommy. Google went on the bed something felt mush under him he took the cover off and "HHHEEYYY!" He shouted. Under him there laid Tango. "Tango I've missed you" Google said with joy.

The End
