

Hot day

Hello, my name is Google. Today is very hot day and I have had to drink a lot of water from my bowl.

The reason why I am so thirsty is because I had an adventure on the beach today with my friends Tango & Duffy. It all began this morning at 8am, we were just wandering around having fun, when Duffy said to me "Google look in the sea! I just saw a big monster!" I looked out to sea and saw the monster and realised that the monster needed help, he had a fishing hook in his mouth and was in a lot of pain.

I jumped into the sea and swam out to the monster. I told the monster not to panic that I was going to help him.

I grabbed the hook with my mouth and slowly pulled it out.

The Monster said thank you to me and told me that he would give me 1 wish, because he was a magic monster.

My wish was that more dogs could be trained like me to help more disabled people.
